

SCOPE: FIND A SUPPORT GROUP

Below are two local organizations that run support groups for cancer patients and their families/caregivers. We highly recommend both. Check out their websites or call them today to find a group that works for you!

Cancer Pathways offers support groups for anyone experiencing the impacts of cancer. Support groups can help by providing a sense of belonging, a place to share your feelings and exchange information with others who have similar experiences with cancer.

All of Cancer Pathways' support groups are facilitated by licensed clinical social workers (MSW/LCSW) and are free of charge.

Joining a group is simple. Register online and a social worker will reach out to you.

Currently, all Cancer Pathways cancer support groups are online. Cancer Pathways staff can assist you in getting set up on their Zoom platform.

Cancer Lifeline offers 25+ monthly support groups and numerous classes for cancer patients, caregivers, families, and friends. They provide a place where emotions can be expressed and not be judged, foster a sense of community, provide opportunities for education and information and help patients explore ways in which choice and control can be realized while living with cancer.

All of Cancer Pathways' support groups are facilitated by licensed clinical social workers (MSW/LICSW/LSWAIC) and are free of charge.

Currently support groups and classes are offered through Zoom and you can register for them on-line. If you have problems registering, contact them at (206) 297-2500.
